

stribe

The best way to listen to your employees

We make it easier to understand what your team care about.
Because better, more engaged teams are at the heart of every successful business

About scribe

By listening to your employees and understanding what they care about you can create a better, more engaged team. We give you an easy way to do this. We're built for teams just like you.

Create a better team

Understanding your team is complicated, but it doesn't need to be.

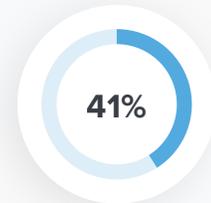

of employees go home at the end of their day and think their organisation don't care about them as people.

- Lederman

improvement in quality of work if employees feel their voice is heard.

- Salesforce

lower absenteeism in highly engaged workplaces.

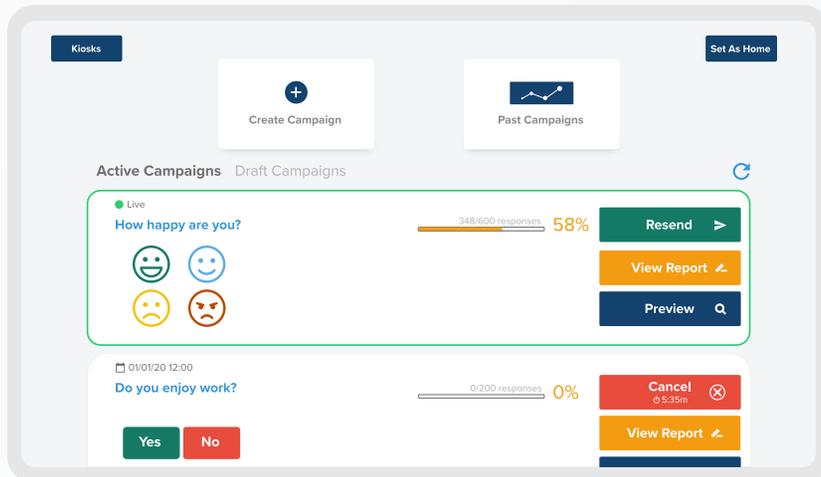

- Gallup

“stribe has created a bigger culture and conversation around speaking up”

We give you a simple way to hear employee's suggestions, ideas and feedback. Or give them a safe place to talk about something that is making them feel unhappy in their home or work life.

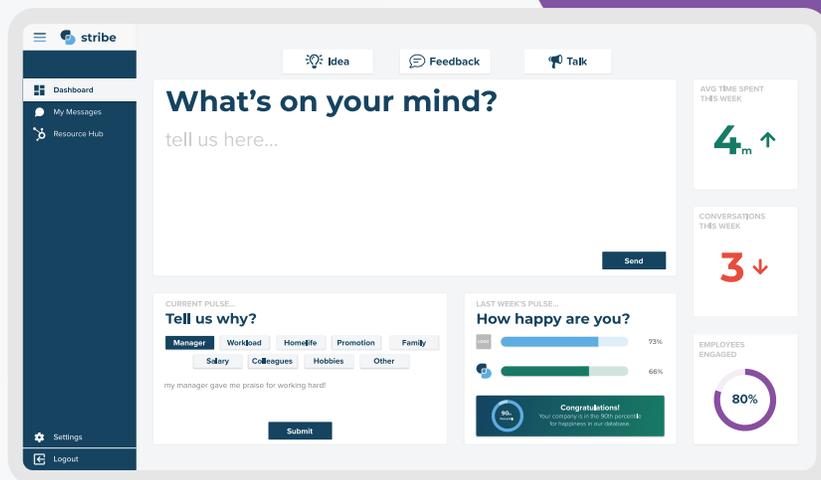

Why? Because understanding what employees care about gives you the key to unlock their full potential. And creating better teams creates a better business.

How we help you create a better team

Track what matters to you

Highly customisable pulse surveys increase opportunities for you to engage employees and gather frequent insights. This allows you to tailor your activities so that you can create initiatives that show employees you care.

Talking always helps

A safe and trusted channel for staff to give feedback, suggestions and ideas. Or simply talk about something that is making them feel unhappy in their home or work life.

The right information at the right time

Make it quick and simple for everyone to access the information they need. Centralise your wellbeing resources, signposting and workplace policies.

Information at your finger tips

Access real-time trends within your dashboard. Create change with bitesize insights that can be put in place by your HR team, leaders and managers.

Get started in 3 simple steps...

1

We understand your needs

A dedicated customer success manager will work with you to understand your business needs and how we can help you achieve them.

2

We create a seamless roll out plan

We support with training, implementation and roll-out, ensuring we integrate seamlessly with your day-to-day.

3

You launch and create a better team

We'll be on hand at every step to ensure a successful launch that achieves high engagement and helps you to create a better team.

Join us today

stribehq.com

hello@stribehq.com

